BIRTHS EXCEED DEATHS IN '25

FEWER CONTAGIOUS DISEASES IN COUNTY THAN 1924.

PUPILS ARE EXAMINED

Betterment of Rural School Conditions A Leading Feature Of Health Department Work.

There were 548 births and 283 deaths in Nodaway County during 1925, according to the annual report of the County Health Department, issued today. Polk Township led in the number of births during the year, with 178, while the least number of deaths was recorded in Hughes Township, the total being six. In no township did the deaths exceed the births.

Compared to 1924, last year was a banner one in respect to contagious diseases. There was a total of but 147 cases in the county in 1925, while the year before 1,141 cases were reported. One thousand cases of measles in 1924 helped to boost the total that year.

There were more cases of scarlet fever in the county in 1925 than any other disease. Sixty cases were reported. There were four cases of chicken pox, fifty-five cases of diphtheria, two cases of measles, fourteen of mumps, three of smallpox, none of whooping cough, seven of typhoid fever, one of tuberculosis of the lungs, and one of infantile paralysis.

A total of 1,835 school children were examined by the department during the year. Of this number, 1,567 were found defective. Five hundred and seventy-seven defects were corrected.

There were 578 pupils who were 10 per cent under weight, twenty-five who were 20 per cent over weight, twelve who had defective hearing, 400 who had defective vision, 159 who had other defects of the eye, 253 who had defective teeth, 889 who had enlarged and diseased tonsils, 316 who had adenoids, 449 who had enlarged glands, ninety-six with suspected goitre, and eighty-three with miscellaneous defects.

The department had a balance of $1,388.04 on hand the first of the year. County expenditures during 1925, including salaries, totaled $7,318.71. A total of $2,525 composed the state aid given the department.

Many public lectures were given in the county during the year. Among the subjects discussed were: "Prevention of Diphtheria by Administration of Toxin Anti-Toxin," "Communicable Diseases, Modes of Transmissionand Means of Prevention," "Physical Defects and Importance of Their Correction," and "Sanitation of the Home."

Four tubercular clinics were held at the office of the department during the year. Eighteen persons were examined. Officers of the department have visited cases of the disease and given directions to prevent its spread.

A series of lectures was given to prospective teachers at the State Teachers College last summer.

Much work has been done by the department in co-operation with county school authorities to better the rural school conditions in the county. There are now thirty-eight first class and eighteen second class schools in the county. These schools have modern lighting, heating, and ventilation, and in addition have approved sanitary toilets and protected water supply. There are now 103 schools in the county with the last two approved conditions.

During January and February, there was an unusual number of cases of diphtheria cases reported. As a result, the department sponsored a Toxin Anti-Toxin campaign during March and April. Children gathered in the following towns and the toxin was administered: Maryville, Parnell, Ravenwood, Hopkins, Burlington Junction, Skidmore, Graham, Guilford, Barnard, Conception Junction, Pickering, Arkoe, Wilcox, Clearmont, LaFayette School, Elmo and Quitman.

Observations show that children who were given the Toxin Anti-Toxin did not develop diphtheria when exposed to the disease.

A series of lessons in modified home nursing was conducted during the year by one of the nurses of the department. These lessons were popular with many of the women's clubs of the county.

Twenty-eight children underwent operations at two free clinics held at the St. Francis Hospital.

Mrs. J. W. Smith of Clearmont was in Maryville today.

AUTO LICENSE BUSINESS BIG

MOTORISTS HERE FROM NINETEEN COUNTIES

PREPARING FOR RUSH

Plates to Be Issued at Local Chamber of Commerce Office But Not Before February 1

Motorists from nineteen counties in Missouri obtained automobile license plates at the Chamber of Commerce office here in 1925, D. A. Caldwell, secretary, said this morning.

Sixty-six different makes of cars were represented in the registrations. They were:

Ford, Willys-St. Clair, Chevrolet, Essex, Dodge, Oakland, Oldsmobile, Studebaker, Hupmobile, Buick, Lincoln, Nash, Overland, Packard, Chrysler, Hudson, Willys-Knight Sterns-Knight, Durant, Chandler, Reo, Dort, Star, Cadillac, Maxwell, Chalmers, Peerless, Apperson, Anderson, Velie, Kissel, Jeffry, Seldon, Mitchell, Franklin, Henney, Haynes, Gardner, Rollin, Paige, Rickenbacker, Stutz, Rauch-Lang, Elcar, Mason, Jewett, Premier, Imperial, Pan, R. & V. Knight, Auburn, Cole, Glide, Dorris, International, Graham, Commerce, G. M. C., Republic, White, Hawkeye, Garford, Samson, Indiana, Federal and Patriot.

The counties represented in the registrations were:

Nodaway, Atchison, Andrew, Holt, Gentry, Worth, Buchanan, Harrison, St. Louis, Ray, Wright, Johnson, DeKalb, Pettis, Jackson, Mercer, Clinton and Daviess.

They are now fifty-seven companies manufacturing automobiles. During the last few years, forty-five companies, some of which were pioneers in the business, have been forced to suspend operation because of the increasing competition. The business of manufacturing commercial vehicles seems to be more stable, for with sixty companies turning out trucks at present, and only eighteen having quit, the average is higher than that of the pleasure vehicle companies.

At the present time, the six largest companies manufacture 80 per cent of the cars produced in this country, according to a survey made by Mr. Caldwell.

The Chamber of Commerce secretary is making arrangements now to take care of the rush expected beginning February 1. Five thousand pairs of plates are on hand at the present time. Auto license plates for 1926 cannot be obtained until February 1.

CLASS VISITS STATE SCHOOL

GENERAL PSYCHOLOGY PUPILS TRIP TO MARSHALL.

HOLD-UP THREATENED

Bad Roads and Driving Rainstorm Encountered by Three Cars Over Week-End.

Twenty-six persons, members of the class in General Psychology at the State Teachers College visited the State School in Marshall over the week-end as a project in the work of the course.

Besides the visit at the school, whose patients are feeble-minded persons, a driving rainstorm, bad detours, and a threatened hold-up were the features of the trip.

The party left Maryville early Saturday morning in the College bus and two cars. Miss Katherine Franken, teacher of the course, was in charge.

Bad roads were encountered between Kansas City and Marshall, and the town was not reached until after 6 o'clock at night.

Saturday night the class inspected the Marshall High School, which is one of the best in the state for a town its size. Early Sunday morning it inspected the state school.

The workings of the institution and the methods of handling the patients were explained by those in charge. About 1:30 the inspection was completed, and the return trip was started.

One of the cars was leading. In it were the driver, a student of the class, Miss Franken, and several other students. Between Kansas City and St. Joseph they approached a car with the top down. The men were standing in the rear of the car and one shouted, "We're broken down and want some information."

Miss Franken said that the driver of their car started to stop, and one of the men jumped out and ran toward them, waving what appeared to be a crowbar.

"Things didn't look right to me, so I told our driver to speed up," she said.

"When he did this, the man ran after us, shouting, and caught onto one of our rear fenders. He was finally shaken off, and I firmly believe that it was an intended hold-up. When the other cars passed the place, the car was gone."

A bad rainstorm hindered the return trip and the two cars and bus did not arrive in Maryville until after 3 o'clock this morning.

It is an annual custom of the psycholgoy class to visit one of the state institutions each quarer.

WELL SUITED FOR INDUSTRY

MARYVILLE'S FACILITIES DISCUSSED AT C. OF C. MEETING.

MANUFACTURERS TALK

Those Already Here Say Maryville Goods Sell But Chief Difficulty Is In Financing.

Maryville's possibilities for industrial development were discussed today at a luncheon meeting sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and attended by the dozen small manufacturers already located here.

A committee on organization was appointed with Fred Curfman as chairman and E. W. Heideman and Paul Basford as other members. This committee will consider the advisability of a local manufacturers' association within the Chamber of Commerce and also will make recommendations on the best methods of securing new industries.

Another committee will make a survey of the city's present industries and its facilities for others.

Trend to Smaller Towns.

Changing times have broken down barriers which once kept smaller towns from industrial development, it was declared by D. A. Caldwell, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, opening a round table discussion.

"Location of industries is a very cold-blooded, scientific proposition," Mr. Caldwell emphasized. "They want to know definitely what your town has to offer—and very frequently know more about you than you do."

He called attention to recent press dispatches saying that Rolla had secured a shoe factory by raising a bonus of $75,000, and that the Dixie Radio Corporation had located a plant in Cameron. He cited instances of mammoth industries developing from small beginnings.

"Maryville can furnish a better grade of labor for less money," the secretary declared. "Here it is easy for every laboring man to own his own home; therefore labor is more stable. He spends less time going to and from work, has more time to enjoy life and is better satisfied."

Easy to Sell Products.

"It is no more trouble to sell Maryville made goods in New York than it is in Missouri," declared Fred Curfman, manufacturer of several nationally sold articles. "They can be sold in Canada or even across the water. I find New York and Pennsylvania the easiest states in the Union to sell my products.

"The large manufacturing business must originate with some man with a vision. But even if the vision is there, there comes a time when he reaches a point where he can go no further without financial assistance. Manufacturing and selling upon a large scale demands capital."

Mr. Curfman pointed out that a town desiring industrial development has two courses: the offering of bonuses for established factories or the assisting of new industries.

"There are thousands of good inventions on the market whose inventors lack capital to develop them," Mr. Curfman said. "There is no reason why Maryville should not finance some of them."

Need More Dairying.

C. E. Barnett, manager of the Nodaway Creamery Co., said the chief handicap of his concern was a lack of raw material.

"Maryville is not a dairying center," he explained. "It is getting to be so more and more every day, but so far we cannot get enough cream."

Eldon Lloyd, maker of a luggage carrier, declared that Maryville manufacturers had articles "that are capable of being put on the market and assuming national proportions." He announced that his product was being sold now in Iowa, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and part of Missouri, but characterized it as yet a "one-horse business because it takes lots of money and an aggressive sales campaign to put these things across."

"It takes all the profits for some time," Mr. Lloyd said.

Eugene Yehle, window shade manufacturer, said that high freight rates were his chief problem.

Paul Basford, cigar maker, agreed with other speakers on the difficulty of large scale financing and also that many factories in the larger cities are being crowded out by higher overhead expenses and must look to the

Greek Debt Must Be Funded Like Others

American Government Not Willing To Extend Additional Credit, Athens Commission Is Told.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Greece was formally advised today by the American government that no extension of her thirty-three million dollar credit would be made and that this government expects Greece to fund her existing debt of fifteen million dollars on terms approximating those of the British settlement.

The Greek debt commission informed the American commission that it had no authority to enter into a funding agreement of the fifteen million dollars unless the American government extend the additional credit of thirty-three million dollars.

Further meetings of the two commissions were postponed until next week to afford the Greeks time to get in communication with Athens.

W. H. HUDSON 84 YEARS OLD

RESIDENT OF NODAWAY COUNTY SINCE 1868.

A PIONEER MERCHANT

In Hardware Business Here For Number of Years And Retired Several Years Ago.

William H. Hudson, a resident of Nodaway County since 1868, was 84 years old yesterday.

Mr. Hudson retired from the hardware business several years ago. He was one of the pioneer merchants of Maryville, having purchased a stock of merchandise more than fifty-five years ago. It was the second hardware store established in the town, the first one having been owned by Garrett & Robinson.

Mr. Hudson's firm was known as Beard, Hudson & Co. and then it was changed to Hudson Bros.

After leaving Ohio when he was 15 years old, Mr. Hudson located in Illinois where he learned the tinner's trade and was working at it when the Civil War began. He enlisted in 1861 and was a part of Grant's army until after the surrender of Vicksburg. For some time he had been bugler and clerk of his company when it was mustered out in Rouge, La., in 1864.

Upon his return home, Mr. Hudson took up his old work, but the next year decided to go west and moved to Savannah where he worked at his trade for three years and in 1868 he first settled in Maryville. Soon after arriving, he purchased an interest in a hardware stock and began his business career here.

In 1870, Mr. Hudson married Miss Lizzie E. Wood. Their children are Charles E., Harry and Nellie.

HOG STEALING CASE IS TRIED

LESTER KEMPF, 19, FACES JURY IN CIRCUIT COURT.

CALFEE IS SENTENCED

Pleady Guilty To Implication In Alleged Theft—Answer In In Warner Suit.

Lester Kempf, 19 years old, is on trial today in circuit court on a charge of stealing a red hog, weighing about 180 pounds, from Dallas Owens, living south of Maryville. The alleged offense took place about July 29, 1925, and the charge is grand larceny.

According to Owens' testimony on the witness stand this afternoon, the hog was found in the feed lot of William Jones of Burlington and was known by Owens on account of certain marks on it. The hog was given back to Owens. It was valued at about $25.

This is the first jury case of the January term of circuit court and the jury the case was composed of W. S. Mitchell, Henry DeMott, Henry Myers, Rudolph Laboni, Ernest Wray, Harley Morehouse, Bert Spooneore, G. T. Logan, Frank Shambargar, T. C. Coil, Tom Parle and John Dowden.

Calfee Pleads Guilty.

Arthur Calfee, charged with implication in the alleged theft, waived formal arraignment and entered a plea of guilty. He was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary, but the sentence was set aside and the court took the case under advisement.

The state case against Roy Tibbetts, charged with child abandonment, was continued, and also the state case against R. F. Lewis, convicted of possessing intoxicating liquor, pending action on his appeal.

A charge of contempt of court was entered against E. J. Donnelly, who disregarded a subpoena to appear before the grand jury.

The attachment suit of John Schneider against Harry Coulter and the damage suit of Betty Schneider against the same defendant were settled and dismissed.

In the suit for maintenance of children brought by Edith Warren against S. J. Warren, the latter filed an answer in which he denied Mrs. Warren's allegation that he had contributed "nothing whatever" to the support of their three children since their divorce in 1921.

Challenges Court's Authority.

The couple were married at Macedonia, Ia., on September 20, 1905, and had three children, James, now 20 years old, Blanch, 18, and Ruby, 10. In her petition, Mrs. Warren stated that they were divorced in 1920. Warren's answer states that the decree was granted to Mrs. Warren in 1921 in a Wyoming court. Admitting that that court awarded the three children to Mrs. Warren, he challenges its juridiction over them and its authority to make such an award.

Mrs. Warren declared that she has "expended and obligated herself to the payment of large sums of money in the nurture, support, maintenance, education and medical necessities" of the children, amounting to $2,500, and asked judgment for that amount.

Warren asserts in his answer that he paid $750 for the maintenance of the children and also gave Mrs. Warren a residence property in Hopkins valued at $2,000. He charges that "due and proper control and care" of the children was not exercised by Mrs. Warren and that they were not kept in school. He further states that James, the oldest child, has been away from home much of the time, that Blanch, the second, has been married since November 16, 1924, and that Ruby, the youngest, is "not being given the parental care she should have."

He asks that he himself be given the custody of this child and that Mrs. Warren's suit be dismissed.

Mrs. E. H. Bryant and children, Joe, Ruth and Jessie, motored to St. Joseph Saturday for a week-end visit with their daughter and sister, Mrs. D. M. Compton, and Mr. Compton.

Surplus of Lawyers in Present Congress

Nye Case Is Outstanding Example Of Result Of Having Large Number Of Attorneys In Body.

By CHARLES P. STEWART.
NEA Service Writer.

Washington—There really are too many lawyers in Congress.

The Senate debate over the question of Gerald P. Nye's title to a seat in the upper house brought this out as it hasn't been emphasized in a long time—though Nye did win in the end.

The thing was one long wrangle over legal quibbles. It wasn't all pure politics, either. The division was not much along party lines. It was a disagreement between lawyers.

To the lay mind the proposition seemed simple enough.

Governor Sorlie of North Dakota appointed Nye to fill the vacancy caused by Senator Ladd's death until the next election.

Now, three men already occupied Senate seats by appointment, under similar circumstances, when the Nye dispute arose—William M. Butler of Massachusetts, George H. Williams of Missouri and Arthur R. Robinson of Indiana.

It looked as if the governor of North Dakota ought to have as good a right to fill a Senate vacancy temporarily by appointment as the governors of Massachusetts, Missouri and Indiana.

But 64 of the Senate's 96 members are lawyers and they got into a technical squabble, which they argued—quite meaninglessly to a legally untrained intellect—to the tune of about 150 pages in the Congressional Record.

Sixty-four lawyers are a lot of lawyers. Two of them, Senator Butler and Fess, are principally something else—respectively a manufacturer and a teacher—but on the side they're lawyers.

The rest are just plain, unadulterated lawyers and always have been, with the sole exception of Senator Tyson, who was a professional soldier—a West Pointer—for a good many years before he hung out his legal shingle.

Keep Your Fingers Crossed.

Superstitious people should be quite at ease this year in comparison with last year. There are fewer Fridays the thirteenth this year. The only one falls in the month of August. In 1925, there were three, these being in February, March and November.

Lent begins on Wednesday, Feb. 3, and Easter Sunday is on April 4. Mother's Day will fall on May 9 this year. The last Thursday in November is the 25; so Thanksgiving day will be exactly one month before Christmas in 1926.

Your lot could be worse. There is a man in Chicago who has been teaching geometry forty-three years.—Zanesville Signal.

FARM CLUB MEETS

Editor Democrat-Forum and Tribune:

The Missouri Farmer's Association Farm Club of Bedison met at the church in Bedison, last Thursday. The meeting was called to order by E. S. Fannon, president of the club. After singing our national hymn, "My Country Tis of Thee," and a short prayer, by the president, H. S. Stevens, president of the Association at Maryville, gave a short talk. Among other things he made mention of the seeming indifference of "big business" to the vital solution of the perplexing problems of the farmer, also stated that the government can not help, and that the farmer was the only one that can help himself out of the predicament into which he has fallen.

"I am a high tariff man. The McNary-Haugan bill can give only temporary relief—it is not what we want. We are divided into too many organizations. I would recommend that a committee be appointed from each organization, and they be shut up in a room and not be allowed to come out until they agree, "United We Stand, Divided we Fall," continued Mr. Stevens.

E. M. Froyd gave some very interesting statistics taken from the report of the Cooperative Marketing Association at St. Joseph, Mo. It shows that the association handled in 1918 only 736 cars of hogs while in 1923, they sold 12,579 cars, a saving to the members of the association in 1923 of $138,661.96. During 1925 they saved to the members 54 per cent of all commissions collected, or a sum of $93,543.57. This sum is now ready to be returned to the members as soon as they furnish information that they are bonified members of the association. There has been an actual saving to the association since its organization at St. Joseph alone of $533,625.29. This sum of over half a million dollars would have gone into the pockets of some other set of men under the old marketing system.

Rev. P. T. Anderson who has spent more than a decade among the farmers of Denmark made the next talk. He said he was glad he was a Dane, like the Irishman when asked what he would be if he were not Irish. He said "I would be ashamed of myself."

Mr. Anderson said Denmark was only about the size of Iowa and yet supports several million people. He said in part:

"They use their mind as well as their muscles and are energetic and economical. There are no weeds growing along the fences there, for there are no fences, the land being too valuable. It must all be tilled and made to yield its portion. Farm land in Denmark is taxed at 3 to 5 dollars per acre, yet the farmers there are thoroughly organized for their own protection or they would not last very long. They run large dairies, and creameries which yield a large supply of cheese and butter. They own their own slaughter houses and packing plants. They send the finished products, Cheese, butter, eggs and cured meats to England by their own salesmen in exchange for manufactured goods and machinery. They also own and operate large co-operative stores and cement factories, the product of which is shipped to nearly all parts of the world."

These talks were interspersed with music by Louie and Roy Schulte on violin and guitar. At the close, "Oh Boy," our obliging and congenial storekeeper, Fred Dodd, gave us such a sumptuous supper of fresh oysters that we are not feeling very good. So, Mr. Editor we are trying to polish up the old farm, oil the harness, tighten up the bolts and rivets using our best ingenuity to make our farm boys and girls like to stay with "the old oaken bucket,"—the old farm home, the freest, happiest, healthiest place in the world.

Many thanks for the good things your paper brings to us.

Yours very truly,
E. S. Fannon.

No Demonstration can reveal all of BUICK Excellence

Any time you drive a Buick you will wonder how such a remarkable car can be sold at such a moderate price.

In just a few minutes you will realize that you are starting, stopping, parking, driving with much greater ease and security. And that you are surrounded by quality and luxury which rank with the very finest.

But demonstration will tell only part of the Buick story, and you should know all of it.

A demonstration cannot show you the enduring stamina of body and chassis that belongs to Buick. Years are necessary for that. It can only suggest the powerful ability of Buick's 75 horse-power Valve-in-Head engine, built for hills. It cannot tell you how thoroughly the Buick "Sealed Chassis" and the Buick "Triple Sealed" engine will protect Buick performance on dusty, gritty roads.

And it cannot even hint of the mental ease you will enjoy, with Buick Authorized Service "just around the corner," everywhere in America.

Better Buick Six Cylinder Valve-in-Head motor cars range in price from $1125 to $1995, f.o.b. Buick factories. Among the Buick open and closed models there is one that will meet your desires exactly.

How Did Totem Get That Far?

From northwestern United States to New Zealand is a long, long hike, but here's a totem pole in New Zealand and that's a Maori chieftain who seems to be the keeper of the seals. The mace he's holding is the original "big stick" of the Maoris, and the photo shows the figure in the totem also is holding one. If Speaker Longworth could get one like that the insurgents would pipe down—maybe.

Much "Dead" Money Here.

Charlie Butler, baker, was another who believed that more industries were needed. "If I make a profit out of my business, I am willing to spend it to bring more," he announced.

E. W. Heideman and T. H. Leet, makers of hog waterers and other metal products, agreed that "Maryville is sadly in need of a pay roll."

L. M. Eek, instructor in finance at the Maryville State Teachers College declared there is "a tremendous amount of 'dead' money in Maryville." He compared Maryville, with bank deposits of $5,000,000, and Muskegon, Mich., with only $30,000,000 in deposits but with 53,000 population and rapidly growing industries.

"Maryville's money is not active," Mr. Eek explained. "It is drawing interest, all right, but it is earning only a fraction of what it should."

Admitting that electric power rates were high, Ray L. Harrison, manager of the Maryville Electric Light and Power Co., asserted that what the company needed was quantity production, which it could attain if there were more industries.

Urges Raising of Fund Now

Fred Smith, county clerk and ardent advocate of one or more factories here, urged that a fund be raised at once for use when there is an opportunity to bring a new industry. He suggested that each resident of the city give $10 or some other agreed upon amount for each lot owned.

"If we don't believe in ourselves enough to put up the money, we can't expect a manufacturing plant to come in and do it," Mr. Smith declared.

Dr. Jesse Miller, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided over the meeting.

Says U. S. Problems Could Be Submitted

Borah Contends Domestic Issues Could Be Brought Up Before World Court for Settlement.

Washington, Jan. 18.—American domestic questions, such as immigration, can be submitted to the World Court under its supervisory opinion powers, Senator William E. Borah, Republican of Idaho, and leader of the irreconcilables, declared in the Senate this afternoon.

Borah declared a precedent was established in the Karelian case. In this case, he said, a dispute between Finland and Russian was submitted to the court by the League over Russia's protest and even though Russia was not in the League.

A similar circumstance, he continued, could result in an American domestic question being submitted to the court for an advisory opinion.

W. F. Phares Approves of Williams Speech

Senator Voiced Opinion of Most Missouri Republicans, State Chairman Believes.

Senator George H. Williams voiced the overwhelming sentiment of Missouri Republicans in his maiden speech in the Senate on the World Court, William F. Phares of this city, Republican state chairman, believes.

In the Missouri notes column of the Sunday Kansas City Star, Mr. Phares is quoted as follows:

"While it happens I am in thorough accord with the stand taken by Senator Williams in this matter, what I have said is based on the sentiments expressed in a large number of letters that have come to me the last few days from leading Republicans throughout the state, and is not intended as a personal opinion.

"The league's court has been stripped of its sentimental trappings and unsound assumptions, and the people clearly see the court as the back door entrance to the League of Nations. The voters of this state have spoken in no uncertain language their determination to keep this government free from entangling alliances, and they are ready to swat the league's court, just as they swatted the league itself."

Around Our Town

A certain College boy is earning his way by working at a local cafe. It so happens that he is seemingly enamoured with a Maryville girl, and that every time she happens in the cafe he drops whatever he has in his hands. This feeling of "dropsy" has become a habit with him.

Saturday night a stranger, grimy and travel-stained by the Wabash, entered the cafe. He was engaged in conversation by the proprietor, and in the conversation the following question was asked, "Where are you from?"

The stranger, with the voice of a fog-horn and the pride of a Missourian, shouted, "Virginia."

Whereupon, our hero of a few paragraphs before let drop a two-gallon jug of milk.

Even school teachers must have their diversion. Saturday afternoon, Misses Mabel Messick and Augusta Quell, teachers in the Maryville High School, went hunting on the Messick farm near Bolckow. Miss Messick labored under the weight of a shotgun, while her companion carried a rifle.

When the afternoon was over Miss Messick had bagged a "rabbit with horns,'' while Miss Quell had "shot a bunny but couldn't find it.''

Charles Gaugh thinks the weather so far during this month of January has been the best he has known. And today is like an April day. When Mr. Gaugh was asked about his age and whether he knew much about the weather, he said he was 44 years old and could not recall any other January when the weather has been as fine as this year.

What Jerry Says

I met old Mr. Grouchy,
One day upon the street,
The sun was shining brightly,
The air was fresh and sweet.

I walked up to him smiling,
In a friendly sort of way,
Saying, how are you this morning,
Isn't this a grand old day?

its just a weather breeder,
Said old Grouchy with a frown,
Before tomorrow morning,
Mercury will be down.

It will be down to zero,
Or eight or ten below,
I've watched it close to forty years,
And that is how I know.

Well let's not borrow trouble,
'Till trouble comes our way,
Said I, forget tomorrow,
And let's enjoy today.

Alright said Mr. Grouchy,
In his crabbed sour style,
But look out for tomorrow,
And he never cracked a smile.

You can't enjoy today?
Tomorrow may be finer,

Asks Legislation to Promote Air Progress

Chamber of Commerce Members Urged to Help in Urging Action—Aviation of Growing Importance

The attention of the members of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce was called today to the need for prompt passage of federal legislation to regulate, encourage and promote commercial aviation. A communication from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at Washington said such legislation should aim to promote the establishment of the facilities and auxiliary services necessary to the development of this new system of transportation.

The National Chamber's attitude toward aeronautic legislation, it is explained, is based on a resolution adopted at the Chamber's twelfth annual meeting, which reads as follows:

"The development of aeronautics in the United States is of growing importance for the transportation of valuable commercial commodities, for business mail, for engineering purposes and scientific investigations for patrol of forest reserves against the constant menace of fire, and for the national defense. With a view to furthering aeronautic development, we favor the prompt adoption of legislation now pending for the regulation and encouragement of aeronautics, including the creation of a Bureau of Civil Aeronautics in the Department of Commerce, and we ask the enactment of suitable legislation for the permanent establishment of an adequate air mail service between the larger cities of the country."

It is pointed out by the National Chamber that "laws have been enacted by a few municipal and state governments with a view to controlling the flight of aircraft within their jurisdiction. While in some instances an attempt has been made to follow a uniform basis in these laws and regulations others differ materially in their provisions. Uniformity will be promoted through a federal law to govern interstate air navigation and thus help to avoid the confusion resulting from varying state enactements."

The communication explains that the National Chamber with the cooperation of local commercial organizations has made a study of the commercial possibilities of aeronautics in various parts of the country. "This study," the letter states, "shows an increased interest in this new form of transportation and brings out the opinion that in many localities commercial conditions are conducive to the successful operation of commercial air lines."

"Air transportation," the letter goes on to say, "can readily, and to a large degree, be co-ordinated with the present forms of transportation, including railroad, express, interurban electric, motor bus and truck facilities for the collection and distribution of goods in territory surrounding air terminals. The present indications are that these facilities can be utilized to advantage over a radius of 30 to 300 miles, depending on the locality.

"An increasing number of landing fields are being established by municipalities along the air lanes, as the cost of providing these fields would generally be too great for a commercial air line to undertake, and it would be practically impossible to limit their use to the owners in case they were privately established. Indiana, Kansas, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin have passed laws authorizing municipalities to acquire and maintain landing fields.

"An important feature of proposed legislation which would aid in the development of air navigation is that providing for navigational aids to aircraft similar to aids for vessels and including aerial lightning and signal stations, meteorological services and radio facilities."

Broadcasting of Local Musicians Is Praised

Earl E. May Of Station KMA Lauds Program Given From Shenandoah Friday Night.

Praise of the highest sort was given Mrs. Fred Wolfers, Miss Helen Dvorak, Bernhardt Bronson, and Dr. D. J. Thomas, Maryville artists who broadcast from Station KMA in Shenandoah last Friday night, in a letter received this morning by Uel W. Lamkin, president of the State Teachers College, from Earl E. May, of the May Seed and Nursery Co., Proprietors of Station KMA.

Mr. May said that favorable comment had been coming to him from many sources on the musical program which the Maryville quartet gave.

Cost of Government in U. S. Increasing

Total Last Year Is Ten Million As Compared With Three Million In 1913—National Debts Lowered

New York, Jan. 18.—The total cost of government in this country, covering the expenditures of federal, state and local governmental authorities and including capital outlays, amounted to $10,252,000,000 in 1924, as against $2,919,000,000 in 1913, according to a report, "Cost of Government in the United States," by the National Industrial Conference Board.

Expenditures in 1924, according to the conference board's study, shows a 1.1 per cent increase over those of 1923, which totaled $10,145,000,000, and were three and a half times as high as in the last year before the war. Taking into account the decreased purchasing power of the dollar, the increase in total governmental expenditures since 1913, expressed in terms of dolllars of 1913 purchasing power, was about two and one-fifth times in the eleven years from 1913 to 1924.

States Spend More.

While there was a decrease of 385 million dollars or of 10.6 per cent in the expenditures of the federal government in 1924, state and local governments increased their outlay by 492 million dollars or 7.6 per cent, leaving a net increase of 107 million dollars in total governmental expenditures.

The significance of these figures in relation to the previously published amounts of total taxes raised by the various governmental agencies, the conference board points out, lies in the fact mere taxation figures do not present a complete account of the real financial burdens assumed by citizens through public expenditures from year to year, as becomes apparent in comparing the total taxes raised in 1924, amounting to 7,907 million dollars, with the total of expenditures, amounting to 10,252 million dollars. While true that in the long run expenditures and taxes go hand in hand, the proceeds of loans, made use of by municipalities and states to an increasing degree during the past few years, may create a great disparity between taxes and expenditures for the time being, which, however, eventually has to be made up by the taxpayer. Fines, penalties, special assessments, interest on public funds and similar revenues account for part of the difference between taxation and expenditures.

U. S. Pays Off Debts.

A striking illustration of this relationship between expenditures and taxation is given in the following comparison of figures given in the board's report. In 1924, local governments were responsible for 52.7 per cent or more than half of the total taxes; state governments, likewise, spent 15.5 per cent of the aggregate of 1924 expenditures, while raising only 13.5 per cent of the total of that year's tax levy. The federal government, on the other hand, was responsible for 31.8 per cent or less than one-third of all public expenditures in 1924, but raised 39.1 per cent of all taxation.

In this, the conference board points out, is clearly reflected the increasing use of bond issues to finance additional expenditures by states and municipalities, while the federal government not only is not incurring any fresh indebtedness, but is paying off its indebtedness by spending less than the amount raised by taxation.

A. E. F. Going Back to France in Fine Style

American "Vets" To Return To Country They Saw From Box Cars During World War.

Indianapolis, Jan. 18 (United Press)—The A. E. F. is going over again.

Thirty thousand American Legionaires who tramped through the mud and struggled over the barbed-wire fields of France in war times are going back to France in 1927 to commemorate the 10th anniversary of their arrival in 1917.

The "boys" who traveled through France on "shank's mare," gun caisons and the famed "40 Hommes—8 Chevaux" box cars, will see the country this time through the windows of French compartment cars.

"Save your money, Buddy! We're going back!" This is the word being passed around Legion posts throughout the country.

Legionnaires are salting their centimes at the rate of about $100,000 a week, it is estimated. "Back to France" savings clubs, working on the principle of the Christmas thrift clubs have been organized by banks all over the country.

"The movement of Legionnaires to France will be a veritable second A. E. F." declares John J. Wicker, national chairman of the American Legion's travel committee, in charge of arrangements for the second invasion of France.

"The dreams of thousands of ex-service men to return to France and desires of thousands of others who didn't get across during the war will be realized by the convention tour.

"The trip will commemorate the tenth anniversary of the arrival of American troops in France. Thirty thousand are expected to go, making it the largest peace-time trans-Atlantic movement in history."

The men will not go in camouflaged ships, guarded by convoys, watching always for 'subs.' Instead of crowded troop ships, stripped of all comforts, luxurious liners will carry the Paris-bound Legionnaires.

Red tape will be slashed right and left to permit the "boys" to go abroad without ordinary passports vises, effecting a large saving. In place of these papers, Legion identification certificates are to be used, which will cost the veteran but a dollar.

American ships will be used where available and British and French liners also will be called into service.

New York, Boston, Hampton Roads, Houston and Montreal have been designated as ports of embarkation. The railroads of the country have agreed to give Legionnaires round trip tickets from their home to the port of embarkation for the regular one-way fare. French railroads have already announced a fifty percent reduction in collective fare from ports of debarkation to Paris and the battleground.

Commander Z. Pechkof, an officer of the French Foreign Legion, is now in the United States as official representative of his country helping to complete arrangements.

The commandant carried a letter of invitation from the French Government and announced that a special bureau had been installed to devote its entire time to handling questions about "the Second A. E. F."

Three weeks will be the minimum time for the trip, a week at sea each way and a week in Paris or at the battlefields. Veterans may remain longer if they wish.

Only Legion members and members of the Auxiliary for the years of 1926 and 1927 and their children are eligible for the trip on special Legion rates.

The travel committee advises a minimum of $300 to be saved by the vets for the trip.

Visitors Leave Tomorrow.

E. B. Forkner of Okmulgee, Okla., will come tonight to join Mrs. Forkner and son, Grant, who have been visiting Mrs. Forkner's aunt, Mrs. J. E. Stewart, and her uncle, Charles Dempsey, for two weeks. The visitors will leave tomorrow for their home.

Miss Mabel Burch of Shenandoah, Ia., is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Arnett.

How Industry Can Reduce Accidents

"Auto death list nears 800—94 more than last year's toll"—is the headline of a Chicago daily.

City ordinances and traffic regulations have not succeeded in reducing the number of accidents. Why?

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) believes the right state of mind toward driving has not been created.

The driver of an automobile must consider human life more important than any business urgency. He must realize that a few minutes of time gained may mean death, and that a life can never be restored. A moment's carelessness and a little child is crushed beneath the wheels. A reckless risk and an old man is knocked down, never to walk again.

The driver of an automobile must feel the weight of his responsibility. He must be willing to take the time and the extra precautions needed to play safe at any cost.

This necessary state of mind cannot be compelled by law. It can be produced only by an appeal to the intelligence and human sympathy of man for man.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) believes that this state of mind can be created, to a large extent, among drivers of other vehicles.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has inaugurated a system of traffic and safety rules, which all drivers of Company owned trucks or cars are required to observe. These regulations apply to every employe of the Company and every driver is asked to pledge himself to observe them.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) considers its traffic rules of primary importance. It realizes that success depends upon the spirit of service and co-operation in the employes themselves. It knows that a state of mind cannot be compelled by law. It appeals to the loyalty and sound judgment of its men. They obey its traffic rules because they want to, because they know that they are right.

This Company has proved by its own experience that the state of mind which avoids accidents can be created and cultivated among drivers of its trucks and cars.

Its attitude, reflected in its rules, has taken the first long step in the direction of creating this state of mind. This "service of safety" is but one of the many services this Company offers to the public, which makes its success in industry possible.

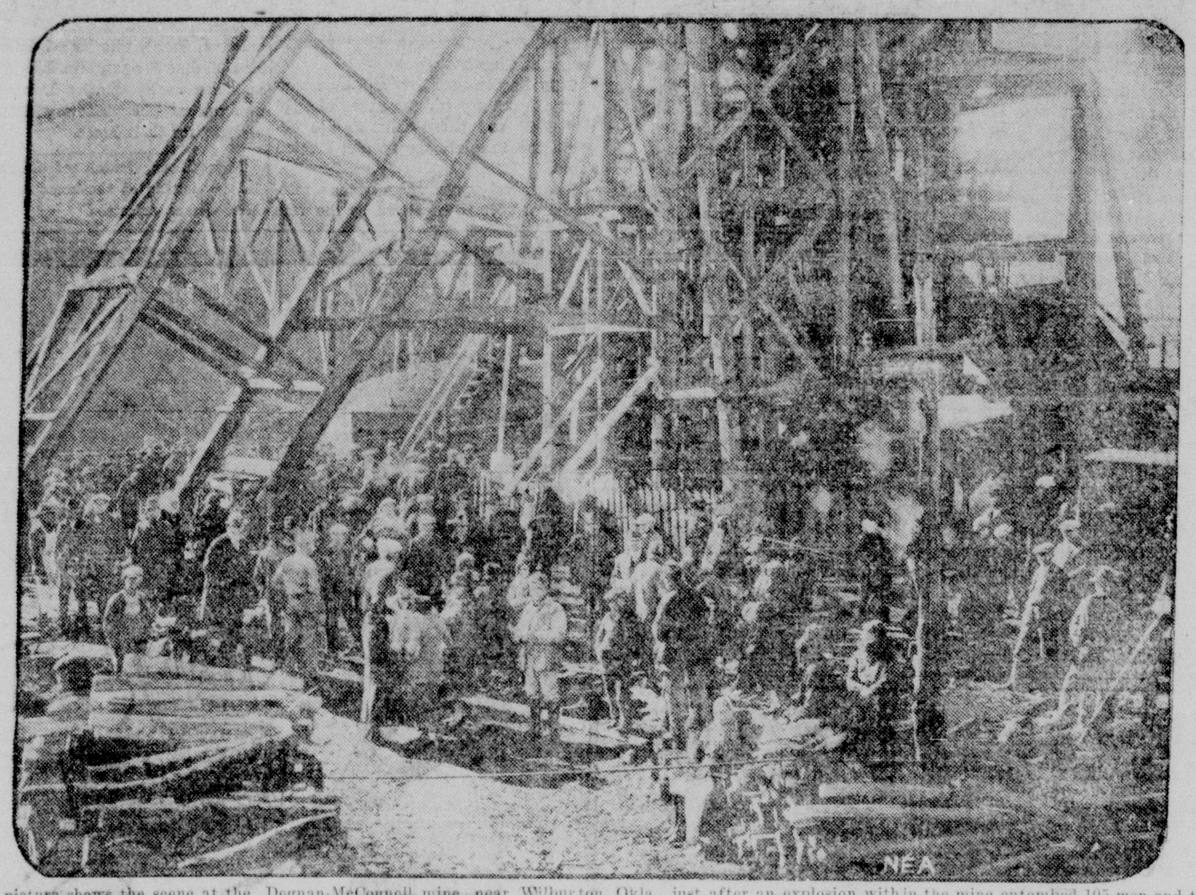
Where 91 Men Were Killed in Explosion



The picture shows the scene at the Degnan-McConnell mine, near Wilburton, Okla., just after an explosion within the mine entombed 105 men and took a death toll of 91. A crowd of mothers, wives, children and other relatives, of the entombed men stood for long hours watching the work of removing the bodies, which were brought up in an iron kettle and identified one by one. It was one of the most disastrous mine accidents in recent years.

"Missouri Products Week" Urged by State Department of Labor

At the suggestion of the Missouri Department of Labor, a "Missouri Products Week" has been inaugurated. The purpose of this week, the date of which is from February 28 to March 6, is to impress upon Missourians the necessity of taking an industrial invoice of Missouri's resources, and to enroll all Missourians as students, in a state wide resource study, with the hope of solving Missouri's production problems.

The Missouri Products Week program purposes to cover many of the main phases of Missouri's development possibilities. It is planned to carry out the program through the aid of the clergy, civic organizations, farm organizations, bankers' associations, chambers of commerce, labor organizations, both local and state wide, the various schools of the state, and through the public service organizations established in Missouri.

The details of the Missouri Products Week program will be handled by a special committee, representatives of state wide organizations, associations and clubs. This committee invites suggestions that will make more effective the advertising of Missouri's development possibilities. All such suggestions should be mailed to the Missouri Products Week Committee, care of the State Labor Department at Jefferson City, Missouri.

Would Benefit Mining.

The plan to be fostered for advertising Missouri's resources during Missouri Products Week will be one that will aid in the further development of the Missouri mineral land, and increase the output of such products as lead, zinc and coal. It should include further development of the Missouri quarries, such as have furnished the marble and stone for the Missouri State Capitol Building. Also the development of the State's clay products and the several other mineral and farm products now demanded on local and foreign markets.

In brief, the Missouri Products Week program should be fostered for the enlargement of Missouri industries, and thereby increase the demand for labor. During this week, merchants will be urged to advertise and make leaders of the Missouri manufactured products on sale at their stores. The employees throughout the state should feel it incumbent upon themselves to boost the products made by the Missouri factories that afford them employment. It is further urged that the schools throughout the state devote their history hours for this week to the study of Missouri's resources, and the clergy are invited to touch upon the importance of increasing Missouri's industrial activity and stress a change in any attitude of complaint upon the part of any Missourian to one of encouragement and gratification, in their sermons on Sunday, February 28.

Speakers at Theaters.

During the week, it is suggested that four minute speakers appear at the theaters and point out the advisability of burning Missouri coal in the Missouri homes and Missouri factories and using Missouri bricks and Missouri stone and marble in building local and public buildings, and also urge the employment of Missouri labor in the construction of new buildings, and on all other local and public enterprises.

Missouri Products Week simply purposes to invite Missourians to work as a unit to further develop Missouri's resources for the benefit of both capital and labor, and eventually to give to Missouri people a better understanding of the value of Missouri products.

Governor Sam A. Baker has promised to issue a special proclamation for Missouri Products Week, in which he will ask the people of Missouri to lend a helping hand, and put forth every effort to give to the state and nation an animated advertisement of Missouri's resources and Missouri's possibilities.

Beauty Fern is now owned by the State Teachers College of Maryville. This herd consists of purebred Jerseys, purebred Shorthorn and Holstein mixed. This is not a "Show" breed, but for dairy purposes there is none better. They range in age from 3 to 7 years.

HOGS—6 Duroc Hogs, weight 200 pounds.

HORSES—One team of good work mares, 5 and 6 years old. Several dozen good chickens.

Ordinance Prohibits Flirting on Streets of Texas Cow Town

Abilene, Tex.—It's against the law to flirt in a public place in the town of Abilene, Tex., erstwhilt cowpuncher headquarters of the short-grass country. An ordinance forbidding it has been adopted by the City Council, approved by Mayor Charles E. Coombes and published. It is now in effect.

The ordinance is a novelty in that it undertakes to give a detailed definition of flirting and of the word "masher" and goes to the extent of declaring that a "wink" may be objectionable, or the making of "goo-goo eyes." The Alderman were uncertain as to whether it would stand before a high court, and provided that if certain portions of it are declared void the remaining portions shall remain in effect; but they were convinced that public morals demanded restraining legislation. Let the ordinance speak for itself:

"It shall hereafter be unlawful for any person to idle and loiter on any street or thoroughfare, sidewalk, alley, or in any store, theater, automobile, moving-picture show, business house, or in the entrance, or doorway of any such places within the corporate limits of the city of Abilene, for the purpose of plying the avocation of a flirt or masher.

"The words 'flirt' and 'masher' as herein used shall be construed as synonymous terms and shall have a meaning consistent with the ordinary acceptation of their terms, and shall include any person, who by word, sign, gesture, wink, facial expression or look shall seek to attract the attention or form the acquaintance of any person of the opposite sex other than a friend or acquaintance for the purpose of making a mash or flirting.

"It shall be unlawful for any male person in the city of Abilene to stare at, or make what is commonly called 'goo-goo' eyes at, or in any other manner look at or make remarks to or concerning, or cough or whistle at, or do any other act to attract the attention of any woman or female person upon or traveling along any of the sidewalks, streets or public ways of the city of Abilene with the intent or in a manner calculated to annoy such woman or female person."

A fine not to exceed $200 may be assessed against any person found guilty of violating the ordinance the violation being termed a misdemeanor.

The ordinance was "approved as to form before passage" by Thomas E. Hayden, Jr., corporation counsel.

MOUNT VERNON

Mrs. Joseph Massing and sons, Leo and Joseph of St. Joseph have been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Damgar and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Heflin and family and Mrs. Hans Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moore and family of Graham, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lyle of Skidmore, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Huff and daughters were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jenson. Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Mitchell and family were additional guests in the afternoon.

Robert Patterson and Forrest McDowell spent Monday in St. Joseph.

William Mann of Maryville and William Hardesty of St. Joseph spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Damgar.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McGinniss and daughters, Doris, Dorothy and Cassie spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. James McGinniss near Bedison.

James McGinniss was absent from school Monday and Roy Jenson was absent Friday.

Bert Pierson has been helping Robert Patterson get up wood this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland McGinnis and baby daughter spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McGinniss.

KNABB SCHOOL.

There have been several absences the last week on account of sickness. Esther Thompson was stricken suddenly Thursday at school with a pleurisy pain and had to be taken home. She is better at this writing.

The Knabb pupils and teacher were surprised Monday when Mr. and Mrs. John Knabb sent them hot cocoa for their noon lunch. Monday was a cold day and the hot cocoa was certainly appreciated.

The patrons of the district are planning to give their program, which is "An Old Fashioned School," on the last Friday evening of January. The program promises to be a very good one. Other particulars will be published later.

The Knabb Literary Society will give their next program on February 12 at 2:45 p. m. A valentine box will be opened after the program.

The "A" reading class are reading Irvings "Legend of Sleepy Hollow," and the "B" class are reading "Spyris' Heidi."

Promising

Presenting little Miss Dorothy Wihr of Chicago, who, though only six years old, has given much promise as a water nymph. No less an authority than William Bachrach, famous coach and the man who developed the great Weissmuller, predicts she will be a world champion breaststroke swimmer in the not too distant future. "Keep your eyes on her," he opines.

She Was Skinny, Weak and Nervous

The greatest strength-giver and producer of good healthy flesh in the world is Cod Liver Oil—it's full of vitamines.

But it's nasty stuff—ill-smelling and hard to take, and usually upsets the stomach.

Thank goodness! we don't have to even smell vile nasty Cod Liver Oil any more, for now Gaugh & Evans and all druggists are selling McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, sugar-coated, and as easy to take as candy, so that you can get the real Cod Liver Oil in condensed form.

Men and women weak, thin and nervous, are urged to put on weight and get back their health and strength with these wonderful tablets.

One woman gained 15 pounds in five weeks and that's going fast enough.

Only 60 cents for 60 tablets, and if they don't put five pounds of flesh on any thin person in 30 days your druggist is authorized to hand you back the money you paid for it.

"But be sure and get McCoy's, the original and genuine."—Advertisement.

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—The fundamentally strong domestic wheat situation was the sustaining factor in grains' higher finish on the Chicago Board of Trade today. That the less bullish world situation had been eliminated from bread grains and that domestic developments will rule for the time was being manifest in the way buyers rallied prices from inside figures after mid-session. Other grains followed the trend in wheat.

Accumulative buying by optimistic holders of heavy wheat lines, some short covering and commission-house purchases were responsible for wheat's late upturn.

Trade in corn was mostly local.

Oats finished practically unchanged after a lifeless session.

Higher hogs and good export demand gave provisions the best price boosts in several days.

Commends Sentence of Maryville Men

H. P. Faris, Clinton, Mo., Prohibition Leader Praises Supreme Court Action in Gray-Helpley Case.

H. P. Faris of Clinton, candidate for President in 1924 on the Prohibition ticket, has written D. E. Blair, chief justice of the Missouri supreme court, commenting the court's action in affirming penitentiary sentences given in a Maryville liquor case.

"It is well said," Mr. Faris wrote, "that jail and penitentiary sentences are the only things that the average bootlegger seems to feel, and I certainly hope your decision and the publicity given it will be the means of stiffening the backbones of circuit courts and jurors to do their duty until they shall clean up this abomination.

"The recent convictions in the federal court in Indianapolis were cheering, but the reception tendered those people in St. Louis by the mayor and others—if he was a party to it—was a travesty."

The Faris letter was reprinted in the Missouri notes column of the Sunday Kansas City Star.
